HOCKEY CLUB ELECT OFFICERS ENSUING YEAR

A meeting of the Gunners hockey club was held last Friday evening in the Club Room of the hall and was fairly well represented by the different business men of the town. The financial statement of the club was read and passed and as the club will need a little cash to start the season Wm. Service and Oscar Lindquist were appointed a committee to call on the townspeople for a donation.

Much enthusiasm was displayed at the meeting as the prospects for a good team seemed particularly bright and the boys hope to get somewhere in the finals this winter.

Following are the officers of the club:

Hon. Pres. Geo. H. Gooderham.
Hon. Pres. R. W. Brown.
President, W. J. McKay.
Secretary, Wm. Sutermeister.
Treasurer, A. F. MacCallum.
Business manager and coach, Bob Brown.

Entertainment committee: Campbell and Tom Brown and George Allard.

The club extended their thanks to Wm. Sutermeister who for the past several years has acted as secretary. The executive of the club will hold a meeting sometime this week.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Stange Director of
"Crop Testing Plan."

"Millers won't buy Garnet. It is harming the reputation of Canadian wheat. Farmers should not produce it!"

These statements have been heard for sometime past, and those who make them point for proof to the wide price spread now current between No. 1 Northern on the one hand and No. 2 Northern and Garnet on the other.

I venture to utter a word of caution to those who are tempted to judge the question of Garnet by the present price situation.

No authority at any time has ever pretended that Garnet is a good quality of wheat as is No. 1 Northern. There is excellent evidence to indicate, however, that Garnet certainly is as good as sound quality as is the normal No. 3 Northern, and that Garnet is equal at least to those world wide average quality wheats such as Australian, Argentine, Russian, Indian and Danubian.

The millers of the world have actually bought since 1929 1,600,000 bushels of Garnet and have found a use for it. I am bold enough to predict, therefore, that when the supplies of No. 1 and No. 2 Northern become less scarce than they are at the present time, the normal price spread between 1, 2, 3 and Garnet then will return.

The following factors have tended to raise price: Considerable frosts in Argentina. Drought causes anxiety in South Africa. Official 1937 Canadian wheat estimate reduced to 385 million. British barley crop smallest on record. Chinese walnut exports decline. Holland likely to require larger wheat and flour imports.

The following factors have tended to lower price: Increase in U. S. official corn estimate. All Italian bread flour must contain five per cent ground corn. Rumanian autumn crops get splendid start. Increase in Kansas sweet potato, soy bean and fruit production. Freight rates between Europe and North America is to be increased 20 per cent on January 1st.

FARM WOMEN MEET AT HOME MRS. W. McKEEVER

Elaborate Preparations Made To Entertain Old Timers Assoc.

Preparations have been completed for the annual Old Timers' banquet and dance which is being sponsored by the Gleichen Board of Trade, next Friday, November 26. The banquet will commence at 6 p.m. sharp. The members of the Old Timers' Association and their families are the guests of honor but a large number of other people are expected to attend. Anybody can attend the banquet on payment of fifty cents per plate. The Catholic ladies are providing the eats for the banquet and the proceeds will be used for the benefit of that church.

The Board of Trade wish to point out that there are no restrictions whatever as to who can attend the banquet and anybody who cares to come will be most welcome.

Immediately preceding the banquet a short program will be given. Mr. Fred Mayhoad, a member of the South Alberta Old Timers and Pioneers Association, and prominent Calgary solicitor, will be the guest speaker, while a concert party consisting of Miss Foulke, Rev. Mr. Lang, Mr. Patrick and Mr. Hand of Strathmore will furnish several musical numbers. As was the case last year it is expected that several prominent oldtimers from Calgary will attend the festivities.

The annual dance with Bremner's Old Time Orchestra in attendance will be held immediately after the banquet program.

The annual meeting of the Gleichen Legion, Gleichen Branch, will also be held on the 26th and it is expected that the outside as well as the town members of the Legion will join in the festivities of the day.

members. Correspondence was read from the Department of Education and also a list of books was given. An invitation was received from Mrs. Wilson to join the Horticultural Club. The report on the sale of home cooking and tea proved very satisfactory and thanks was extended to all those who so kindly donated.

A skit was put on by Mrs. R. Burn and Mrs. Quinnell called "My Lady Houghton," which proved to be most laughable and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. A dainty tea was then served by Mrs. McKeever and her helpers. The next meeting is to take place on December 2nd at the residence of Mrs. A. Wilson.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO ENTERTAIN ON DECEMBER 22

The third annual school concert is planned for the Wednesday evening preceding Christmas, December 22nd. This will be about a two-hour program, and will consist of plays, recitations, songs and choruses typical of the work the schools are carrying on under the new course of studies now in effect for every grade except the last two years of high school. It is hoped to start promptly at 8 p.m. so that everyone will be able to get home in fairly reasonable time. There will be an interesting play by the smaller children, a more elaborate offering by the senior pupils of the dramatic classes, together with a series of vocal and elocutionary items by various groups from all classes.

As in other years any money in excess of the cost of the program will be used for purchase of materials used in the extra activities which are now part of the school work. It is hoped that this night will be well worth the attention of all parents and those interested in the happiness and progress of the children.

STOCK GRAZING IN SOUTH EASTERN ALBERTA

The period of reduction in rentals for certain lands in south-eastern Alberta set aside for the purpose of stock grazing, granted in the spring of 1935 to continue until December 31, 1937, has been extended to December 31st, 1939, it was learned from the Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines.

While there has been some improvement of late in stock grazing conditions, Mr. Tanner stated, it is apparent from investigations made that lands in the drought area are still unable to satisfactorily maintain the amount of stock per acre required by the regulations.

The original rental rate, inclusive of taxation, was 4 cents per acre or $6.40 per quarter section. While this rate still continues in more favorable localities, the less favorable ones will continue to be subject to the reduced rates of $5.20, $4.20 or $3.20 per quarter section according to location. Order in council, 12837 authorizing this extension, is dated November the 8th, 1937.

FARM CLUB WORK

No movement having for its object the betterment of rural life is worthy of more encouragement and support than that of forming and maintaining boys' and girls' clubs. It is gratifying to observe that the movement is spreading rapidly, and that many thousands of young people on the farms of the country are enrolled as members.

In a recent review by the Department of Agriculture it was shown that civic bodies and individual business men all over the country are taking notice of the club movement, and are fostering it through the offering of prizes, etc. for efficiency shown by farm boys and girls in carrying out the various projects included in the club program.

Club activities not only serve to prepare young people for their life work, if they choose to stay on the farm, but the conducting of their own meetings develops qualities of leadership and confidence in themselves. Even those who enter other pursuits are better fitted for their future careers by the discipline and training which are inseparable from club membership.

Every rural community should cooperate with home demonstration agents and other extension workers in promoting boys' and girls' clubs. It is a splendid enterprise, which will have a most beneficial effect upon farm life in the future.

PARENTS SHOULD KEEP CHILDREN FROM STATION

Every evening there are a number of school boys who make the very undesirable practice of gathering at the station during the time of the arrivals of the evening freight and passenger trains, with apparently no other reason than that of watching the trains come and go, during which time, in spite of repeated warnings by townsmen and railway officials, considerable tussling and running up and down the platform takes place.

We wish to point out to the parents of these children, the serious danger such practice involves and hope they will use their parental influence towards preventing what otherwise might prove a serious accident to some child. It might be added here that the police have done what they could to stop the playing on the platform.

A few days ago a little lad standing at the station while the passenger train came, endeavored to board one of the coaches before the train came to a stop. In doing so he slipped and fell with his feet over the edge of the platform, and while most fortunately no injury was sustained, needless to say such horrifying form of amusement might have proven very serious or fatal for this lad.

The accident which occurred at Walsh, Sask., last week in which a ten year old boy falling under a train and sustaining serious injuries has prompted the writing on this subject.

Protect Your Hard-Earned Savings

THROUGHOUT Canada, life insurance policyholders and beneficiaries should realize the menace to their own and the national welfare that lies in extreme and unjust legislation.

These policyholders represent 50 per cent. of the electors—federal and provincial. Through the institution of life insurance, they have so pooled their resources that their collective interest can withstand attacks that would bring financial disaster to the individual.

Despite war, epidemic, panic and depression, life insurance has met every policy obligation promptly and in full.

Despite the financial disturbance of the past six years, it has distributed, and continues to distribute, to its policyholders and beneficiaries, over $500,000 every working day.

Seventy-five per cent. of this money has been, and continues to be, paid to living policyholders; the balance to beneficiaries.

Life insurance is the greatest co-operative business in Canada. No one doubts its strength and stability. No one questions the prudent and intelligent direction of its affairs.

It is the guardian of the hard-earned savings of 3,500,000 men and women in all walks of life.

Today there are forces in Canada that menace the welfare of these people. These forces would penalize their savings and impair their investments through legislation which cancels public and private debts—regardless of the debtor's ability to pay—and which tends to destroy the ownership of public and private property.

The interests of life insurance policyholders and beneficiaries—as of all other citizens whose savings are invested in one form or another in Canada—demand that promises to pay be observed, when the debtor is able to pay; that hard-earned savings which safeguard the homes and families of the Dominion be protected from unjust legislation.

so have been formed in Alberta encouraged by the A.M.A. and police. As another move in the interests of safe driving British Columbia is embarking upon a two-year program with the purpose of making tests of all 150,000 motor car drivers in that province. The examination would be made by special "robot" machines to be operated at stalls established by the government. A fee of $1 would be charged. Purposes of the tests would be to find out if the motorist is capable of handling a car and whether he has proper knowledge of driving rules. When the tests are completed, only new applicants would be examined.

The Big Interests

One is sometimes tempted to wonder why those so-called old fashioned virtues—thrift, hard work, prudence and integrity, are so frequently secured at nowadays and discounted as something that is out-moded and therefore, if not actually to be abhorred, at least something to be ashamed of.

Despite the fact that history, and particularly comparatively recent history, abounds with the names of men who from little or nothing have built up great industries, have risen to wealth or power, by the application of these virtues, plus ability and foresight, it would appear as if they were to be condemned, and the capitalist "system" which in combination with a democratic form of government gives the poor boy an opportunity to rise from the ranks ought to be relegated to the ash heap, if some proponents of upheaval are to be believed.

Without holding any particular brief for capitalism and the capitalists one cannot help but deplore a good deal of the loose talk which is indulged in, all too frequently, in which the capitalist is held up as the foe of the common man and such terms as "the big interests" and the "mighty big shots" are used to express contempt, if not hatred, for those who have got along in a competitive world by their own efforts; and in which such slogans (not borne out by statistics in the United States and Canada) "the rich are becoming richer and the poor are becoming poorer," pass for currency and are accepted by some as gospel.

It would almost seem as if some of the facts are forgotten; that, for instance, without capital labor could achieve nothing of consequence; that the co-operative efforts of capital and labor have made the luxuries of yesterday the necessities of today and that inevitably the luxuries of today will become the necessities of tomorrow and that nowhere in the world have these achievements approached the zenith as they have in the countries of this continent where free men have been given to individual effort under a democratic, capital-labor system to an extent as yet unrealized elsewhere in actual practice.

Citing a number of illustrations of men who have risen to important posts in industry J. Lambert Payne writing in the Ottawa Journal refers among many others, to Walter P. Chrysler, whose story is an extraordinary tribute to these old fashioned virtues, and the late John R. Booth, of Ottawa, and goes on to say:

"Instead of wealth being in the hands of a predatory few, as is often alleged, its diffusion is the salient fact of our time. As a matter of fact in Canada, it is literally in the hands of millions. . . . There is not a trace of cohesion or co-operation among the capitalists (referring to allegations that the big interests combine to thwart the will of the people). Chrysler and Booth had to meet strenuous rivalry at every step in their progress; and for that reason, so patent to the judicial mind, we use a misleading word when we speak of capitalism as a system."

"Moreover," as Mr. Payne points out, "the exorcism of capitalism in certain quarters ignores the fact that it has existed since organized society began, and," he concludes, "will likely persist. Commerce is impossible without it."

And not in industry alone has capital, so far in the history of the world, been one of the two essential factors to civilized progress, but it is also an important element in agriculture. Every farmer is himself an illustration of the co-operative effect of capital and labor, for every farmer is both a capitalist and a laborer. Every man who purchases a half section of land and a line of implements and power to operate them becomes a capitalist and when, in addition to that, he hires a man to operate some of his machinery he places himself in the category of a capitalist employer of labor.

And every farmer who has employed one or more men knows that there must be co-operation and accord between himself and his hired man if both, or either, are to attain maximum results.

It has often been said that there is nothing new under the sun and that is true of efforts to decry capitalists and capitalism. The same cry has been raised during every depression which has struck industry on the North American continent as was aptly pointed out, with examples, in a recent issue of a popular magazine.

If past history is to be regarded as a guide, it is probably fairly safe to assume that with the return of prosperity, the bailing of what is regarded as "the big interests" will disappear as people become more occupied with efforts to advance their own interests, provided that while they are doing so they are not unmindful of their obligations to others.

In the agricultural west where we have seen so hard hit recently and in which sections which are still facing the dire results of prolonged drought, the disappearance of the capital at hand may be retarded, but the time will in all probability come when the rank and file will look back in retrospect and wonder what it was all about.

Filing Of Fingerprints

Urges Voluntary Filing By The General Public
Voluntary filing of fingerprints by the general public with police should be encouraged, report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, recently printed, states. Many instances of the value of fingerprints for identification purposes, apart from criminal investigations, have come to light.

"It is certain that at least the travelling public (and who is not a traveller) should be encouraged to file their prints with us for use in case of misfortune," wrote Inspector W. W. Watson, of the fingerprint section.

"During the year we identified two unfortunate simply because of their past criminal records. In one instance we were able to satisfy an insurance company, thus promptly benefiting the beneficiary."

"Only recently a gentleman of periodic loss of memory condition filed his impressions with us. Possibly much worry would have been saved in numerous other instances if imprints of certain individuals were available for comparison purposes."

The two "unfortunates" referred to were men found dead on railway tracks. One, found at St. Boniface, Man., was identified as Steve Kozicki, whose prints were on record because he had been convicted in Port Arthur for assault. The immigration department had further particulars about the man which enabled steps to be taken to notify relatives in Poland.

The other man was found at Belleville, Ont., and his prints were on file because of some offense. He was found to have been a former resident of Ottawa and his father identified a photograph which was also on file. There was some insurance on his life and his relatives were able to obtain payment.

As usual, the fingerprint records of the force were useful in many cases of crime, assisting in the tracing of the records of persons arrested and in directing police to the offenders.

One man was arrested although he took the precaution to wear gloves. A tear on one of the gloves was his undoing. He was Thomas L. Madill and the offence was breaking into a service station at Lindsay, Ont.

A new school with the unique lines of an ultra-modern factory has just been opened in Ilford, England, with accommodation for 1,000 children between 5 and 11.

It is the Torbitt Elementary school and it took a year to build and cost nearly $200,000.

The school has two halls, a film-projection room and wireless equipment to accommodate a loud-speaker in each room. The subway way department, complete with rocking horse, helter-skelter and fairy cycle.

All the class masters in the school are university graduates.

Statue Of Christ

Erected On Barren Rocky Eminence On Bering Sea

A life-size statue of Christ faces Russia across the Bering sea from the highest point of land on lonely Christ the King Island, erected by the island's population of 180 Roman Catholic Eskimos as a symbol of Christ's love.

Details of the statue and its dedication were revealed in New York by Miss Felicity Burnell, niece of the late Mrs. Samuel J. Kison, of the famous British sculptor. Mrs. Kison, before she died seven months ago, completed the statue her husband started.

Father Bernard R. Hubbard, "glacier priest", scientist and explorer is responsible for the erection of the statue on the barren rocky eminence rising 900 feet above sea level, 85 miles from Nome.

There are 70,000 public houses in England, of which 28,000 have been rebuilt or modernized since 1935.

A Cash Transaction

Mrs. Ingle-Jones, tall, fair American, who buys for New York shops and lives in Regent's Park, London, is telling this story against herself. She was buying partridges in a West End poultryer's. When the shop assistant said "Trussed, madam?" she replied, "No, I will pay now."

Novelist Has Recipes Used By Famous Italian Poisoners

There is a bank in London which has in its vaults secret recipes of all the deadly poisons known to the Romans, the famous Italian poisoners.

They have been placed there for safety by a woman who is afraid they may get into the hands of the wrong people. She is Miss Kitty Shannon, novelist daughter of the late Sir James Shannon, the famous R.A.

When she decided to write her sixth novel about the Borgias—Miss Shannon went to Italy to hunt up the poisons they used for inclusion in the book.

Miss Shannon told the Daily Sketch: "I advertised in a Rome paper for somebody who knew the recipes."

"The first thing that happened was that I had a visit from police officials, but I was able to reassure them that I had no evil intentions. "Then I had a visit from a chemist. In fact, one of his ancestors had prepared poisons for the Borgias. He gave me the recipes for ten different poisons."

"I was appalled by the simplicity of some of them. One, which I dare not reveal, is so simple that it can be prepared from boiling down three different weeds that you tread underfoot any time you go for a country walk. One drop of it will kill you in about fifteen minutes."

"And now there is a little difficulty over my book. The poison recipes were to have been included in it, but the publishers are also nervous."

"So some of the Borgia poisons will have to remain secret. They will stay at the bank until I destroy them. They are too big a responsibility."

When The King Intervenes

Young Officers In Royal Service Are Often Helped

Every commission in any of the three fighting services requires the Royal signature. To facilitate this task, in itself no light one, each commission has, attached to the edge of the paper opposite where the King signs a little strip of blotting paper. After signing his autograph, the King bends back this attachment and the signature is dried without further trouble.

Like his father, the King interests himself personally in all recipients of his commission. All court martial judgments, before promulgation, are submitted to him, and often enough King George V. would interpose. Where a young officer, perhaps, had got into money troubles, and cashiering was recommended, he would on occasion point out that the trouble arose through the youngster joining an expensive regiment, and suggest, instead of cashiering, transference to a less exacting unit.

At least one brigadier-general on the army list to-day owes his military career to such intervention by King George V.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

Well Qualified

"So," said the old general, "you think you would make a good valet for an old wreck like me, do you? I have a glass eye, a wooden leg, and a wax arm that need looking after, not to mention false teeth and so forth."

"That's all right, sir," replied the applicant, enthusiastically: "I've had lots of experience. I worked for six years in the assembling department of a motor car factory."

Farm Machinery Imports

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Canada's September imports of farm implements and machinery was worth $1,738,849, a large increase over the $800,522 worth in September, 1935. During the first six months of the present fiscal year imports were valued at $1,750,275, against $6,081,100 in the same period the previous fiscal year.

The Word Hydro

Means Something Apart From Electric Power In Britain

In Canada, the word "Hydro" usually refers to one of the country's most vital assets, hydro-electric power. It is a different story in Britain, where the people always think of a hotel when "Hydro" is mentioned. The term is short for "Hydrophobic." English and Scottish Hydros are usually temperance hotels where water cures are the thing.

Canadians learned something about them during the visit of 22 Scottish hotelkeepers and their wives. The party, organized under the joint auspices of the Scottish Travel Association and the Hotels and Restaurants' Association of Great Britain, spent a day at Ottawa, seeing the Parliament Buildings and other aspects of the capital and making a thorough inspection tour of the Château Laurier, where they were entertained to dinner by the Canadian National Railways hotel department.

Two Hydros were represented in the group—one at Peebles and the other at Skelmorlie. Hotel names in the list that seemed particularly romantic to Canadian ears were the Ugadale Arms of Machrihanish, the Duke of Gordon Hotel of Kingussie, and the Ballic Nicol Jarvie of Aberdeen. The last is named after a popular Walter Scott character, the magistrate in "Rob Roy"—C.N.R. News Bulletin.

Bar Canadian Nurses

American Officials To Take Steps To Prevent Their Entry To U.S.

After thoughtful United States immigration commissioner, in a letter made public by the National Nurses' Association, said immediate steps would be taken to prevent the further entry of job-seeking Canadian nurses into the United States.

The association recently protested to Labor Secretary Perkins against what it called the "wholesale importation" of Canadian nurses to hospitals in New York state and elsewhere "to the detriment of qualified graduate American nurses in New York and the entire United States."

The protest was referred to Houghtaling, who replied: "I have been examining the records and am inclined to agree with you that the courtesy we have been extending to this class of Canadian visitor has been excessive."

"I am therefore issuing instructions to our officers on the Canadian border that while Canadian nurses made be admitted on visitors' permits for ordinary visits on cases which require temporary entry into the United States, visitors' permits shall no longer be issued for the purpose of enabling Canadian nurses to come into this country to take jobs here."

AT 83 SHE DEFIES RHEUMATISM

After Suffering Acute Pain For Years

Rheumatism first attacked this old lady in 1931, and gradually spread from her arms to other parts of her body. Then she started to take Kruschen Salts, and now she sends the following letter in her own handwriting:—

"I have suffered from rheumatism since 1931. At first, I felt acute pain in both arms. I could not sleep for pain. It grew worse, and gradually crept down to the tips of my fingers. Next it reached my knees and ankles, which made me quite helpless for a long period. A friend recommended me to take Kruschen Salts. I find they do me more good than any other medicine, liniment or ointment I ever used. This is my own writing, though I am in my 84th year."

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are often caused by deposits of needle-pointed uric acid crystals in the muscles and joints. Kruschen Salts stimulate your liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action, and assist them to get rid of the excess uric acid which regularly the cause of your suffering.
